VOL. XIII.—NO. 4075. NEW-YORK, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1864. PRICE FOUR CENTS.

LINCOLN AND JOHNSON.

Meeting at the Cooper Institute.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

Speeches by Hon. Thomas G. Alvord, Hon. C. J. Baylor, of Georgia, and Hon. Andrew J. Hamilton, of Texas.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held, last evening, at the great hall of the Cooper Union, under the auspices of the Lincoln and Johnson Campaign Club of this City. The hall was crowded, and among the audience were many ladies. Much interest was had in the meeting, from the fact that the speakers of the evening were all men who in 1860 were opponents of Mr. Lincoln, but who now, by the force of events, arrayed themselves in favor of Lincoln and Johnson, and as the representatives of the Union and Liberty.

A number of veterans appeared on the platform, and were loudly cheered.

The meeting was called to order by Chas. S. Spencer, Esq., President of the Club, who in some brief remarks eloquently alluded to the recent victories in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Maryland.

SPEECH OF HON. THOMAS G. ALVORD.

Mr. Alvord was announced as the first speaker, and his appearance was the signal for prolonged applause. He thanked the audience for the manner in which they received him on this, his first appearance at a meeting in this City. This was an important occasion—that of a people deciding the future policy and rulers of the country. This election was a solemn and serious time in the history of our country. Those who addressed the people should address them in honesty and truth. The question should be, shall we or shall we not have a country? This was a political campaign, we could not separate it from the fact that we were a divided people and that civil war existed. Those opposed to us said that we had infringed upon the institutions of the South, but we chose to look at the matter in the light of history. He would bring a witness to the stand, who would be in the opposition, and whose testimony could be regarded if in our favor. But this was no new contest; it was the contest which had ever existed—that between the Aristocracy and Democracy. The witness whom he proposed to bring was John C. Calhoun. That man took the broad and distinct position that there were two classes of our people; that they could not be amalgamated and harmonized—that these same classes had in England—as the Roundheads and Cavaliers—fought their battles there, and that when they came to Plymouth Rock and the James River respectively, that same distinction existed, and the same hostilities existed. That in 1775 the South wanted to be represented in the Parliament of England while the North sought independence; and the South only accepted the alternative of independence because their purpose failed. Those were the sentiments of Calhoun, and legitimately we found, as the fruits of that hostility, the South making the first overt acts in the setting in motion this rebellion. The South had a theory that by means of our being engaged in the carrying trade, and carrying abroad the products of the South, and bringing back foreign products upon which imports were put for revenue, and that, therefore, the South was taxed to maintain the Government. But Jackson had no doubt of the power of the Government to put down rebellious States, and he put vessels with double-shotted guns in the harbor of Charleston, and the nullification flag came down. Jackson had said that the only omission of an act which he had to regret was that he had not hanged the traitor John C. Calhoun. [Cheers.] But still later, finding he had failed, Calhoun saw there was no way to do but to play his last card, and that was to commence the agitation of the question of slavery. That agitation commenced and has resulted in rebellion. Later, in 1852, men were elected to a convention in Virginia for the purpose of doing away with slavery, because they saw in slavery the cause of the decay of that State. That convention met, but was borne down by the pressure from other Slave States, and the opportunity for emancipation was lost. In May, 1852, Mr. Garnett, of Virginia, had written to Mr. Tripp, of South Carolina, in which he said that South Carolina was right, that Southern independence must come, that slavery and Democracy were incompatible, but Virginia was divided and was not ready yet for a separation. But earlier, in 1848, the people of the South were jealous of the commercial prosperity of the North. They held their commercial conventions to build up the commerce of Charleston, Savannah and Mobile. But in each of them there was an inside convention, made up of politicians which was to cause the separation of the South. But later, in 1859, this inside convention took its position boldly outside by the side of the commercial Convention at Vicksburgh, and gave forth its sentiments. Mr. Spratt, of South Carolina, upon whose shoulders it was said the mantle of Calhoun had fallen, said, "away with their idea of commercial supremecy—the true means was Southern independence—for the Democracy of the North was to be feared and not favored, and they could not be safe in any such alliance." DuBows' Review had gone a step further by pre-shadowing that hereditary rulers must take the place of republican institutions. He [Mr. Alvord] had been a member of the Charleston Convention, and had learned on his way thither that the Southern men had said that a platform must be made before candidates were nominated. They had seen that the Democratic party had obeyed all their behests in the past, and when it was said by Northern Democrats that, upon such a platform as was denounced by the South, the party could not stand in the North, the Southren Democrats said then we will have a dissolution of the Union. The night before the convention met, Edward Marshall, of Kentucky, an admirer of Stephen A. Douglas, amid cries of "shoot him," "kill him," had for an hour poured hot shot into the ranks of those secret traitors, accusing them of endeavoring to divide the Democratic party as a means of effecting a dissolution of the Union. How true were his words; and he [Mr. Alvord] declared that it was his belief that the issue had been formed, not because they had such a marked interest in favor of slavery, but because they desired to do away with a republican form of government. But the South did feel the moral effect of the increase of free labor. They feared that the Democracy that was pressing upon them would strangle slavery in its home and be dragged down forever. But he would ask them if they had not in the South been preparing in every thing to put down Democracy. Here we had schools and churches, and a free ballot-box going hand and hand together. In the South there were to be sure four million of blacks, but there were seven million of whites, even more degraded, and why? Because the power of the South was aggregated in the hands of their hundred and fifty thousand whites; and this war was going to end not only in the freedom of the blacks, but the enfranchisement of the whites—and enable their energies to spring into life, and let them take the position which their abilities now latent would enable them to.

Mr. Alvord next alluded to the objection that was brought against the Union party. On the question of the draft he showed that the Democratic party in 1814, with James Madison at its head and supported in New-York State by Martin Van Buren, had formed a draft, and that in the footsteps of those men, in this regard, the administration was following. [Applause.] And before the draft law passed, the Atlas & Argus, and Gov. Seymour and others said that a draft must be made to prosecute the war more vigorously, yet when the law was passed they said that the administration was violating the Constitution. [Laughter.] They, too, had inveighed against the distinction made between classes by the commutation clause, and yet when that clause was taken out by Congress, the Atlas & Argus, but two weeks since, said that Congress had outraged every right of the people by what? By repealing the commutation clause. [Laughter.] Then too as to the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, he said it had been frequently suspended in England, and when parliament met they had passed retroactive acts, to justify the suspension, and in that the Administration and our Congress has followed the example of English rulers and Parliaments. Then, in reference to the allegations of the President suppressing free speech, he (Mr. Alvord) had a fault to find with the President, and that was that the President had not suspended those Northern traitors rather than suspending the writ of habeas corpus. [Applause.]

In his peroration, Mr. Alvord paid an eloquent tribute to our soldiers in the field for the sufferings they had endured for our liberties, and he asked that we respond to their patriotic acts by our votes to put down the traitors at the North as the most powerful means of sustaining our armies in putting down the rebellion and making free labor and free institutions universal over our continent.

After a song by the Glee Club, the Chairman next introduced Hon. C. J. Baylor, of Georgia.

SPEECH OF THE HON. C. J. BAYLOR, OF GEORGIA.

Fellow-Citizens: I am indebted to the courtesy of the club under whose auspices I speak to-night, for the opportunity of vindicating myself, as well as vindicating what I know to be a large majority of the people of my State, from the falsehoods and aspersions cast upon us by the press at Richmond, edited, I ought to say, by the hired fools of Mr. Davis. In the struggle which is now taking place on this continent—a struggle which every American deplores—the time draws rapidly near when parties both North and South must take sides with one belligerent or the other. The duty it imposed upon every American who loves free government, who admired the American nationality of either siding with Jeff. Davis and the clique which surrounds him, or of supporting the United States, which are fighting the battle of constitutional liberty on this continent. I know, fellow countrymen, that you would not respect me, nor would I deserve your respect, if my sympathies were not in a great degree with the unfortunate people of my own section. I have many kindred in the South, misguided many of them before they reached manhood; I have many friends whose sufferings I sympathize with; but standing as I do with my hand upon this flag, I feel what every man who claims to be an American must feel—that there is but one side for the patriot. [Cheers.] That side is not the side of the partisan, it is not the side which seeks to find fault with this and that act of the Administration; it is not the side which seeks to vindicate itself, or excuse itself, or thrust its own ideas forward; but it is the side which embraces the great body and mass of the American people, and to whom government, American government, under the American Nationality, is the supreme good. Mr. Davis' papers in Richmond have charged that I was not in any manner whatever an official representative of the South, and they have charged that in my public career in the State of Georgia, that I did not express in that State the views which I expressed in Bermuda, and that these views were not at all shared by the people of Georgia. Now I have the honor of bearing the commission of the State of Georgia as her commercial and financial commissioner to Europe. Before that was conferred upon me, a committee from that State waited upon Gov. Brown, and protested against my appointment—but was I appointed nevertheless. Another committee waited upon Gov. Brown, and claimed that my commission should be canceled, on the ground that I was an not American. Gov. Brown sent for me and laid these charges before me. My response to Gov. Brown was a very simple one. That I was born in America, had lived in America, and hoped to die in America; that my pursuits in life had disqualified me from taking part in politics, and that I had never cast a vote in my life for anybody, and if that was treason against President Davis he could cancel my commission. But Gov. Brown permitted me to retain my commission. Meanwhile new political questions had arisen, and I took the position in Georgia over my own signature and in public meetings, and stated it to one of Davis' most intimate friends that I considered Jeff. Davis' Government at Richmond a fraud and a despotism, [cheers]—that I considered the whole scheme of sectional disunion to be what Alex. Stephens prophesied it would be, a folly and a crime. [Cheers.] I stated publicly, over my own signature, that after a considerable residence in Europe, in which I had in the name of the United States Government, an opportunity of seeing almost every foreign despotism, in all my experience I had never seen nor heard of a despotism at all comparable to the despotism which Jeff. Davis and disunion leaders had placed upon the white men of the South. [Cheers.] And yet these people in Richmond say that I gave utterance to sentiments in Bermuda, which I lacked either the manliness or the honesty to express in Georgia. I speak to you as a Southern man, and I speak from a knowledge of the fact, that you are fighting the battles of seven millions of the white men of the South. Jeff. Davis and the party who surround him have no idea whatever of making terms of peace of any kind with the United States Government. Mr. Davis' purpose is per se disunion—the dismemberment and the subdivision of this continent—the overthrow of democratic institutions, and the establishment of an American dynasty in his own family. You may say this is an extravagant statement, but I assure you it is a view shared with me by many men of the South who have closely watched his administration. Now let us look at the facts—let us examine this Mr. Davis—this aspirant for a monarchy, who planned his treason while he drew the salary of the Government which educated him. The Southern Confederacy was formed as a nation. The States which seceded had not been invaded by the United States Government at all. No effort was made to invade them up to that time. The United States Government did not invade the State of South Carolina when she seceded, nor that of Georgia. When Mr. Lincoln became the Constitutional executive he found a nation armed and eqipped on this continent disputing the power of the United States nation on this continent. Is not that so? He found no States holding counsel for the purposes redressing grievances, nor asking guarantees for what they might consider their rights nor calling upon any portion of the States to pause before being plunged into war. You find nothing like the appeals of Madison and Jefferson in that concern. They met there at Montgomery, and established a nation, and that nation took the Capes of Virginia and the mouth of the Mississippi, and sent their ambassadors to Europe to form foreign alliances. What had Mr. Lincoln and the United States Government to do with that? They were confronted by that fact, and had to meet it. In all my reading, I have not found in history so barefaced an attempt to deceive an intelligent people as this of Davis', to set up a claim that he fighting the battles of the American people, and that he is the champion of State rights. Now let us come to the doctrine of States rights, and Mr. Davis' rule. The people of North Carolina proposed to meet in convention to nominate a candidate for Governor. They proposed as a part of their scheme, that inasmuch as Mr. Davis evidently did not desire to make peace with the United States Government, it was competent for the "Sovereign State" of North Carolina to withdraw from her "agent," Mr. Davis, that portion of his power delegated to him, and which gave him control of the subject of peace, believing that the State could negociate a peace better than Mr. Davis. The convention met in a building used for camp meeting purposes, and I suppose was as large as this. It was a body composed of the first men of the State, men of intelligence, wealth and many of whose names were historic, and among them were many of advanced age. What did Mr. Jefferson Davis, the exponent of States rights—who is so exceedingly sensitive on that point do? He sent an armed force to disperse the meeting and arrest its leaders; and, fellow-citizens, to-day in the North Carolina prisons, are many aged and respected and intelligent citizens languishing and dying, because they had the audacity to nominate a candidate for Governor upon certain principles which they thought would redound to the benefit of the people. But that did not do. The agitation went on. The Georgia peace party kept pressing Mr. Davis. We held our Congressional elections and turned out of Congress what were called the "Forty thieves." These were forty members of the so-called Congress at Richmond who always voted compactly as Davis wanted them to, and always in secret session, for there never had been an open session of that body upon any question that interested the people. We knew them, and in our election, what the Richmond Examiner called the "Forty Conscripts," and others called the "Forty Thieves," was turned out. But when Mr. Davis found that he had lost them, he induced them before their final retirement to pass a law, some of the features of which I will detail to you, because they are quite novel and original, and particularly as coming from a State Rights Democrat. In the first place, that law sets forth that any man who uses language calculated to lead anybody to suppose that he can possibly be in favor of the idea that a State has the right to secede from the Southern Confederacy, it is treason. [Laughter.] Then a clause gives to Mr. Davis the power to construe the language and motive of a man, and any lawyer knows the extent to which tyranny can be carried under such a clause. Then he is empowered by this law to appoint military courts and the officers who compose it, the law having abolished the civil tribunals. What is the result? When a citizen is brought before the military court, he is tried with closed doors, is refused legal counsel, is refused the benefit of testimony, is refused correspondence or communication with his family, and all for what? To try and to shoot him if, after getting all the evidence that can be got together, it can be shown to the mind of Mr. Jefferson Davis, by direction or indirection, that this man could possibly entertain the idea that under any circumstances a State had a right to secede from the Southern Confederacy. [Cries of shame.] I, who have lived under that despotism, and have seen its workings, who know the names of the men who govern that despotism, am here to give you warning. You are in the midst of the most terrible struggle the world has ever seen. You have against you the hatred and ill will and diplomatic intrigues of every despotic power in Europe. This you can stand up against; but I tell you that if the Chicago platform succeeds in the coming election, and Jefferson Davis is left intact in Richmond, your liberties are gone, and gone forever. [Cries of "That's so."] If Jefferson Davis would resign from his position and remand the petition of the Southern people to the States, the danger would not be so great, and in my opinion there would be no danger at all. But so long as he remains at Richmond with the power he has got, with the secret alliances and understandings he controls Europe, I tell you if you do not heed the warning I give, but look upon my words as party declamation, you will one day remember that you were warned by those who knew the schemes and plots of the arch traitor, and that for the mere purpose of party ascendancy and political power you plunged the country into irretrievable ruin. [Applause.] Now, there are a great many well-meaning and honest and patriotic men at the North who believe firmly that Jefferson Davis and the people surrounding him will make peace with the United States if there is a change of Administration. I will be very frank with you. If I thought so I should vote here, if I had a vote, for a change of Administration at once. They believe that a change of Administration in the United States Government, will induce a change of policy in the part of the leaders at Richmond, and upon that idea are constantly harping. They think that Mr. Davis is the representative of the great hereditary American principle of local liberty, and are trying to get control of this Government for the purpose of negotiating with him. But this is delusion. Peace cannot come from any such course of political events. This is no idle, dull motive. I can have no earthly motive in wishing it. I know where the position I take consigns me with my relatives, and you know, too, where the affections naturally and properly tend on person's actions, except they are influenced by that paramount love—love of country. [Applause.] But let me relate to you the facts of one act of Mr. Davis' Administration, and if my words are believed, and any man in this hall can go forth and deposit a vote by any means whateves in sympathy with the perpetrator of that act, than he desires to leave this continent, for he is no longer worthy the name of an American citizen. In the southwestern part of North Carolina, in the mountain region, there is a valley corresponding to the Valley of East Tennessee, which is grand and beautiful in its appearance. The inhabitants of this valley are almost entirely small farmers—many of them farmers who have quietly pursued their industries without slaves in the midst of a picturesque country and fertile soil. They were simple and rural in their characteristics, patriotic, and they voted en masse against all the schemes and propositions for disunion. [Applause.] When at last the trial came, when Mr. Davis' Conscript Law was passed, those unfortudate people sent a commission to Richmond, asking that they might be absolved from the operation of that draft. The petition was, of course, without avail. They then resorted to other means to avoid taking up arms against the government under which they were reared and which they loved. They petitioned for expatriation. That, too, was refused, by Mr. Jefferson Davis, this modern representative of civil liberty and defender of the rights and liberties of localities. [Laughter.] On the contrary this champion of States rights sent North Carolina troops to that region for the purpose of having the Conscript law executed against that unfortunate people and force them to take up arms against the conviction of their consciences. But the North Carolina troops fraternized with their fellow citizens, and Mr. Davis was forced to send other troops, who also failed to affect the purpose. What next did he do? He enlisted a brigade of Cherokee Indians, numbering, I think, from 3,500 to 4,000, of as desperate and lawless ruffians as a hybrid population ever produced, and these miserable wretches were turned loose upon the population, and from that day to this that valley has been the scene of battle, of violence, of assassination and of crime. The history of the massacre of the people of La Vendée, in France, the murder of the innocents, or any tale of atrocity related in imaginative literature, or in history, holds no comparison with the cruelty and crime perpetrated upon the innocent and unoffending people of that region, because they loved the country of their birth. Do you tell me, fellow-citizens, that the man who perpetrated a crime like that can possibly be a friend of American liberty and Government? [Cries of "No."] Do you tell me that we can have the faintest conception of the onward progress of Christian civilization, and that he is the representative of local liberty? [Cries of No.] Now, my friends, your Chairman has stated to you why I am here. It is a very ungrateful part for me to perform, but there are times in the history of a man's country when he owes everything to his country and nothing to himself. I was in Bermuda, and on my way to France, when I saw that Niagara correspondence. I went at once to the American Consul and stated to him my determination to go immediately to the United States and warn the Government against the scheme that was hidden under that correspondence; and the first man to whom I went on my arrival was Mr. Horace Greeley, and I think I was the providential means of preventing our Government, possibly, of taking the very fatal step that the Chicago platform proposes—that is, to dream for a moment of entering into any negotiation whatever with the infamous men who rule at Richmond. If you want peace, you secure it at the hands of the Union men at the South, and I tell you to-night as I told the Governor of my State, and my fellow-citizens there, that the only power that intervenes now between the despotism that is seeking to comb out the very life of the people of the South, is the army of the United States Government. [Applause.] And while I know that the President himself does not wish to exercise that power one iota beyond its legitimate object, that power must be maintained [Applause.] It must be kept where it is, and I tell you there is not a man who has served in your armies in the South who does not know that three-fourths of the Southern armies to-day are Union men—[applause]—and that the whole scheme of secession, in its inception and organization, and in its execution, is a despotism, and that you are not only battling for your own liberties, but for our liberties in the South as well. [Applause.]

Charles S. Spencer, Esq., then introduced Gen. A. J. Hamilton, of Texas, who spoke at some length in the most forcible and elequent manner. Our columns are too crowded to permit us to give a full report of the speech. Mr. Spencer then announced that on Tuesday there would be a lecture on "Our War and Gen. Grant," and invited all to another meeting on Friday evening. The meeting then adjourned.

Enthusiastic Union Meeting in Bridgeport.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Bridgeport, Conn., Friday, Oct. 14.

We have a large and enthusiastic meeting here to-night. Col. Stone, of Atlanta, Judge Cross and Hon. Benj. Bailey made eloquent and telling speeches. While Judge Cross was speaking, a German soldier arose in the audience and said he heard the rebel soldiers cheer the nomination of Gen. McClellan all along their lines.

Our people were never more enthusiastic. Bridgeport will come out all right in November.

THE PEACE QUESTION,

Reported Avowal of the Rebel Vice-President in Favor of Negotiations for Peace.

Philadelphia, Friday, Oct. 14.

A special dispatch to the Bulletin from Baltimore, to-day, says:

North Carolina papers of the 4th inst., state that a letter was hourly expected from the rebel Vice-President Stephens, defining his position and views on the peace question now agitating the public. They also contain the following remarkable statement:

"Vice-President Stephens has told gentlemen in Raleigh that his views incline strongly to an immediate effort for peace by negotiation. Mr. Stephens is represented as saying that he thought the time had come for the people of the South to make known to those of the North, especially the Peace party of that section, that they are ready to settle upon the sovereignty of the States, and to restore the old Government, should the North guarantee the right of property, and the majority of the people so declare.

The gentleman who furnishes the news is a man of high character. He saw and conversed with the Vice-President, and would not be likely to misrepresent; and yet there are many who can hardly credit the story.

Mr. Stephens has written a letter for publication, and the matter will soon be put at rest."

The same papers also say that there is a powerful and growing desire in Georgia to stop the war now. We have no doubt of it; but we hardly expected such gentlemen as Vice-President Stephens and Gov. Brown, to lend themselves in favor of reconstruction upon any terms.

ARMY OF THE JAMES.

The Rebels Compelling Our Prisoners to Work on Fortifications—Retaliation by Gen. Butler in Prospect—The Diabolical Treatment of Our Wounded by the Rebels.

From Our Special Correspondent.

Headquarters, Army of the James,
Wednesday Evening, Oct. 12, 1864.

There is a fair prospect, as I write, that Gen. Butler will be forced to make retaliation upon the rebels for the way in which they are alleged to be treating our colored soldiers who were captured in our advance on the 29th ult. From deserters who came into camp this morning, Gen. Butler learned that a large number of the negro troops had lately been brought from the prisons at Richmond, and put to labor on the various fortifications in front of us. Justly indignant at this unparalleled violation of the rules of warfare, Gen. Butler promptly set measures in motion to meet the outrage by retaliation. First, the following affidavits were drawn up as a basis upon which to act, and then they were forwarded, with the accompanying letter, to Judge Ould, the Confederate Agent of Exchange. The affidavits and letter explain themselves fully:

Headquarters Department of Virginia
and North Carolina,
Army of the James, Oct. 12, 1864.

Samuel Miller, of Battery C, Eighteenth Virginia Battery of Artillery, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that he, with his company, has been for some weeks past stationed at Battery No. 8, situated on the intermediate lines between the Charles City and Darbytown roads, and that, to his personal knowledge, he knows of some seventy-five to eighty colored prisoners of war, clad in the uniform of the United States, to have been kept at work on fortifications and intrenchments in that vicinity and upon that line since Thursday, the 6th inst.: deponent further says that he deserted and came away from his company this morning, up to which time they were still at work, to the best of his knowledge and belief; Deponent also further says that he knows of numbers of them having been obliged to trade their clothes and shoes with the Confederate soldiers for food, owing to the insufficiency being furnished them. SAM. MILLER.

Samuel Hutchings, of the Thirty-eighth North Carolina Regiment, lately put into the Virginia Local Reserves, and stationed at Fort Gilmer, on oath deposes and says, that coming to Fort Gilmer on the night of Thursday, the 6th of October, he found one hundred negroes, colored soldiers, clad in the uniform of the United States, captured in the recent engagement, at work in the trenches at and near Fort Gilmer. Deponent further says that he left the Confederate lines on the night of the 11th inst., and that when he left the trenches they were still at work.

SAMUEL HUTCHINGS,

James F. Knight, Company F, Fifty-ninth Virginia Regiment, put into the First Regiment, Virginia Reserves, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that on Thursday, the 6th inst., and on Friday, the 7th inst., he was on duty with his regiment (First Virginia Reserves,) and that on one of the above-mentioned days, which he does not now definitely remember, he, with his company (Company A, First Regiment, Virginia Reserves,) went from their camp, which was then on the intermediate line near the Darbytown road to Richmond, Va., and took from Libby Prison about eighty-two (82) colored men, who were there then as captured prisoners of war, and brought them to the intermediate lines between the Newmarket and Darbytown roads, where they were put to work throwing up intrenchments, and where, to the best of his knowledge and belief, they now remain doing work in the manner described above, he having left them on the morning of this day. Deponent further says that they were clad in uniform.

GEN. BUTLER TO COL. OULD.

Headquarters Department of Virginia
and North Carolina,
Army of the James, Oct. 12, 1864.

Sir: I inclose herewith an affidavit showing the employment of one hundred and ten (110) United States colored soldiers by the military officers of the Confederate forces in the trenches near Fort Gilmer—a practice justified by no rule of war or claim heretofore made by the Confederate authorities.

I have ordered a like number of the officers and soldiers captured by us (preferably as many of the Virginian reserve force, by whom this outrage is being done, as I have captured,) into the canal at Dutch Gap and put there at hard labor, and shall continue to add to their number until this practice is stopped. I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

BENJAMIN F. BUTLER,
Major-Gen. Commanding.

To Hon. Robert Ould, Agent of Exchange, Richmond, Va.

THE TREATMENT OF CAPTURED NEGROES.

In addition to retaliating for the flagrant injustice of using captured troops in strengthening the rebel fortifications, Gen. Butler also promises to enforce the lex talionis in cases intimately connected with that set forth above, where colored soldiers, taking prisoners, are reclaimed by their late masters, by ordering an equal number of rebels, as nearly as the number may be arrived at, to manual labor. Here is a copy of his letter on this pointt:

Headquarters Department of Virginia and
North Carolina, Army of the James,
In the Field, Wednesday, Oct. 12, 1864.

Sir: I inclose a copy of an advertisement, cut from a Richmond paper, where a military officer, commanding a camp near Richmond, calls upon their masters to come forward and make claim to the services and labor of certain colored men therein described.

Some of them are believed to be soldiers of the United States Army captured in arms.

If I am mistaken in this belief I desire to be promptly corrected.

I have ordered to such manual labor as I deem most fitting to meet the exigency, an equal number of prisoners of war held by us, and I shall continue to order to labor captives in war to an equal number of all the soldiers of the United States, I have reason to believe are held to labor and service by the forces you represent, until I am notified that this practice on your part has ceased.

Much as I regret the necessity imposed upon me to do this, yet I am compelled by the sternest convictions of duty thus to inaugurate a system of retaliation which will be firmly carried out. I have the honor to be, very respectably, your obedient servant,

BENJ. F. BUTLER, Major-Gen. Com'g.

To Hon. Ro. Ould, Commissioner of Exchange, Richmond, Va.

These letters were forwarded under flag of truce, borne by Lieut.-Col. Kensel, of Gen. Butler's Staff, who went outside our lines in front of Fort Harrison. He carried the following letter to the officer commanding the enemy's forces opposite Fort Harrison, and his dispatches were received and sent to Col. Ould. A reply is promised by the rebel authorities by 11 o'clock to-morrow.

Pending the reply of the rebel authorities, a large number of prisoners have been brought to the Provost-Marshal's camp, at headquarters, to be at once placed on the works at the Dutch Gap Canal, in the event of the allegations about the use made of our troops being admitted.

Availing himself of the opportunity afforded by the flag of truce, Gen. Butler took occasion to notify Col. Ould in a letter, of which the following is a copy, that he is prepared to enter at once upon the exchange of naval prisoners. The business and negotiations respecting the exchange of this class of captives has been, until a few days past, in the hands of Capt. Melancthon Smith, U. S. N., Commanding the iron-clad Onondaga. He was relieved from it in consequence of the inconvenience it occasioned in connection with his other onerous duties as senior officer of the naval fleet on the James River:

THE EXCHANGE OF NAVAL PRISONERS.

Headquarters Department of Virginia and
North Carolina, Army of the James,
In the Field, Oct. 12, 1864.

Sir: As Commissioners of Exchange for this Government to negotiate exchanges with the belligerents represented by yourself, I propose to exchange all the prisoners in your naval service which we now hold for all the prisoners in our naval service taken by you which you hold, man for man, according to the equivalent of assimilated rank set forth in the cartel, the excess to be made up in officers and men on either part from the army.

In making this proposition I repose with confidence upon your statement to Maj. Mulford, that you will exchange all the naval prisoners so taken without distinction.

I have the men at City Point ready for delivery, and will deliver them at Cox's Ferry, at such time after five hours' notice as you may designate. I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

BENJ. F. BUTLER,
Maj.-Gen.-Commanding.

Hon. R. Ould, Agent of Exchange, Virginia.

I notice in Sunday's Times an editorial paragraph, which hoped, for the sake of our common humanity, that there was room to doubt the published statement respecting the shocking barbarities practiced by the enemy upon our wounded in the late movement on the left of the Army of the Potomac. I fear there was too much ground for the terrible assertion, as the following well-authenticated correspondence respecting the murder of wounded negro soldiers shows:

Field Hospital, Army of the James,
In the Field, Oct. 12, 1864.

Major: I have the honor to transmit herewith a communication from Maj. Wm. H. Hart, Thirty-sixth United States Colored Troops, in which he reports the statement made to him by Lieut. Veirs, Fifth United States Colored Troops, concerning the murder of colored soldiers by the men of the Fifteenth Georgia, after the repulse of Brig.-Gen. Foster's troops at Fort Gilmer.

Lieut. Veirs' regiment, the Fifth United States Colored Troops, supported a brigade of Gen. Foster's division in the assault on Fort Gilmer on the 29th ult.

Lieut. Veirs was wounded and captured, was exchanged, and made his statement to Maj. Hart, on board the steamer City of New-York, on Sunday, Oct. 9.

Maj. Hart is reliable and accurate, and his report of the conversation is without doubt correct.

Lieut. Veirs is now probably in hospital at Fort Monroe. I remain very respectfully, your obedient servant,

ALONZO G. DRAPER,
Colonel Thirty-sixth U. S. C. T.

Maj. R. S. Davis, A. A. G., Department of Virginia and North Carolina.

Camp Thirty-sixth U. S. Colored Troops,
Army of the James,
In the Field, Oct. 12, 1864.

Colonel: The following is a correct statement of the conversation held by me with Lieut. Veirs, Fifth United States Colored Troops who was wounded and taken prisoner in the assault on Fort Gilmer, on the afternoon of the 29th ult.

I saw Lieut. Veirs on board the City of New-York, at Riker's Landing, on her last trip down the river, Oct. 9. He stated to me that after the assaulting party had retired, the rebel soldiers (who he afterwards learned, belonged to the Fifteenth Georgia Regiment) came out of the fort and bayoneted all the colored soldiers who were so badly wounded that they could not walk! they also flourished their bayonets over him, called him the vilest names they could utter, and would probably have killed him on the spot, had not the officers of these men come to his rescue. They (the officers) ordered the men to desist, and had Veirs conveyed inside the fort, where he was again subjected to the vilest insults from the lips of a Confederate naval officer. This officer admitted, however, that "the damned niggers fought like devils." I remain Colonel, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. H. HART, Major 36th U. S. C. T.

Col. A. G. Draper, 36th U. S. C. T., Field Hospital, 18th, A. C.

The following is the indorsement on the foregoing papers by Maj.-Gen. Butler, as forwarded to Lieut.-Gen. Grant:

Headquarters Army of the James,
In the Field, Oct. 12, 1864.

I have the honor to forward the report of Col. Draper, Thirty-sixth U. S. C. T., Commanding brigade, as to the information furnished by Lieut. Veirs, who was wounded and captured at Fort Gilmer, on the charge of the 29th ult.

Lieut. Veirs has been paroled for exchange, and has gone to Annapolis, so he can be examined upon the matter by the Judge Advocate-General.

Please forward the report to the Honorable Secretary of War, for investigation and instruction as to how I shall act in the premises.

B. F. BUTLER, Maj.-Gen.-Commanding.

I send herewith a Richmond Examiner, of this date, which among other interesting matters, contains an extract from the speech of Jeff. Davis, delivered at Columbus, S. C., on his return to Richmond from the South. A paragraph copied from the Columbia (Georgia) Sun settles beyond a peradventure the correctness of the report of Mr. Davis' recent speech at Macon, as published in the Times of Friday last. H. J. W.

From the Fifth Corps—Heavy Artillery Firing—Arrival of Recruits.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Washington, Friday, Oct. 14.

The following dispatch from the Times' special correspondent, has been received at this Bureau:

Headquarters Fifth Corps,
Weldon Railroad, Va., Thursday, Oct. 13, 1864.

Yesterday affairs were very quiet; even the "sore spot," as the soldiers call it, or "Fort Hell," has remained silent. Late last night, however, firing recommenced.

The recent engagement resulted in nothing more than a holding of our picket line, which was seriously threatened. The firing was sharp and severe, while the artillery fire became, at times, very heavy. Very few casualties occurred.

Large numbers of convalescents and recruits are constantly arriving, and they appear to be of a hardy and intelligent class of men. G. F. WILLIAMS.

Guerrilla Operations against the Manassas Railroad.

Washington, Friday Oct. 14.

A gang of Mosby's guerillas, in strong force, yesterday made an attack on the outer picket of the Second District of Columbia Regiment stationed at White Plains on the Manassas Railroad. The guard of eight men were captured, and the officer in command was shot in several places and abandoned to his fate.

Two privates of the Sixth Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery were killed by guerrillas yesterday, between Accotink and Burke's Station.

Gone to the Front.

Buffalo, Friday, Oct. 14.

The One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Regiment, Col. Burrs, numbering about seven hundred men, enlisted for one year, left here to-day, it is supposed for City Point.

An Interesting Life Insurance Case.

Boston, Friday, Oct. 14.

An interesting case has occupied the Supreme Judicial Court several days, in the trial of a suit by Mrs. Mary S. Huckins, against the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New-York, to recover $10,000 upon a policy of insurance on the life of Francis Huckins, of Roxbury, her deceased husband. The defence admitted the policy was genuine, but maintained that it was void, for the reasons that the deceased, some time prior to his death, led an irregular course of life; that at the time of procuring the policy false representations were made, and that death being caused by an overdose of laudanum, was not natural, and the policy insured against no cause other than natural. The jury returned a verdict of $11,502 23 for the plaintiff.

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

A Clean Sweep in Ohio.

Seventeen Union Congressmen Elected.

Official Returns from Pennsylvania.

PENNSYLVANIA.

OFFICIAL RETURNS.

Philadelphia, Friday, Oct. 14.

The following returns are official:

First District—Randall's (Dem.) majority, 4,167.

Second District—O'Neill's (Union) majority, 4,169.

Third District—Myers' (Union) majority, 1,169.

Fourth District—Kelly's (Union) majority, 3,219.

Fifth District—Ross' (Dem.) majority, 88.

Sixth District—Lehigh County—Democratic majority, 2,047; Democratic gain, 314.

Eighth District—Berks County—Democratic majority, 6,189; Union gain, 284.

Tenth District—Schuylkill County gives Strouse (Dem.) 750 majority.

Ninth District—Thaddeus Stevens' majority, 4,637; Democratic gain, 1,654.

Seventh District—Chester County—Union majority, 2,049; Democratic gain, 441.

Eighteenth District—Clinton County—Democratic majority, 680; Democratic gain, 316.

Seventeenth District—Huntingdon County—Union majority, 517; Union loss, 516, compared with the vote for Governor.

Mifflin County—Union majority, 1. This county gave 63 majority for Curtin.

Northampton County—Democratic majority, 2,893; Democratic loss, 180.

Carbon County—Democratic majority, 512; Democratic loss, 65.

Twenty-first District—Westmoreland County—Majority for Dawson, (Dem.,) 1,477; Democratic gain, 390; Harrisburgh, Friday, Oct. 14.

From information received here this morning, it is absolutely impossible to determine how the State has gone until the reception of official returns. Both parties claim small majorities, but unexpected results in heavy Northern Union counties renders it scarcely possible to overcome the large Democratic gains. In either case, it is admitted, the majority will be small, and can only be determined by the official vote.

The recording of the soldiers' votes is necessarily very slow, being distributed among various counties, and from the manner in which they appear on the the tally papers, it is impossible to make an aggregate until the record is more complete.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

Another Speech from Jeff. Davis.

From the Richmond Examiner, Oct. 12.

On passing through Columbia, South Carolina, on his return to Richmond, President Davis treated the citizens to another of his speeches. There is nothing new or striking in it; he travels over pretty much the same ground as he did in his speeches at Macon, Montgomery and Augusta. We take from the Guardian's report of his speech, the following excerpt:

President Davis alluded to the repeated efforts which had been made by the Government to open negotiations for peace, and to the hostile spirit and temper in which all such advances had been met. He treated our recognition by foreign States as an ignus fatuus—glaring but delusive. There was one sign of foreign favor which could not deceive. It was always exhibited when Confederate victories took place. It was the advance of Confederate stocks in the foreign markets. It showed upon what the action of foreign States naturally rested. Their favor will necessarily follow successes, which lead to, and in, our independence. The President said that he had just returned from the Army of Tennessee, and brought from it only words of good cheer. It had increased in strength and risen in soul. Its march was onward. So far as he could judge, the strategy of Gen. Hood was good, and his conduct gallant. His eye was upon a point of the communications of the enemy far beyond that where he had been assailed. If but a half or even a fourth of those who should join him, would promptly do so, there would be no alternative for Sherman but defeat or disastrous retreat, and he would within thirty days be found crossing the Tennessee River. But within that time much would have to be done to insure these auspicious results. Absentees from the army must promptly return to it; others who owe the country service, and have thus far eluded or avoided it, must faithfully pay the debt, and place themselves, without delay, in the armies of Tennessee and Virginia.

The Columbia (Georgia) Sun, in referring to the President's recent speech in Macon, the authenticity of which was doubted, says:

"We have the assurance—and had at the time of its publication—from two of the best men in Georgia, who were present and heard the 'speech' as it fell from Mr. Davis' lips, that that part of it to which objection is taken was correctly reported. There is as little of true greatness and elegance in that speech as the one delivered at Chattanooga in December, 1860. It is in singular contrast with his State papers, which are remarkable for their elegance of taste and diction."

WESTERN LANDS WANTED—IN OHIO, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin. The List of Letters in the Post-Office.

By direction of the Postmaster of this city, the list of letters in the Post-office is published this morning, and will be published hereafter until further notice in the columns of the Times. We do this at some inconvenience to ourselves, as our columns are already crowded with advertisements. We shall continue the publication, for the satisfaction of the public, as long as possible.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The latest returns from Pennsylvania still show that there will be a small Union majority on the home vote, while the soldiers' vote is coming in solidly for the Union ticket. The Congressional delegation stands fifteen Union to nine Copperheads by the home vote, but the soldiers' vote will undoubtedly elect Russell Thayer in the Fifth District, who is only thirty-five behind on the home vote. In Ohio the delegation now stands seventeen Union to two Copperheads.

We have Richmond papers of the 12th, but they contain no news of importance. Jeff. Davis made another speech at Columbia, S. C., on his way home, which we give elsewhere. Secession sympathizers, who believe Jeff. don't make such speeches, will please read the admissions of the rebel papers.

On the morning of the 5th inst. a party of seventeen men from the rebel ram Albemarle went down in a launch, with the intention of capturing a dispatch boat plying between the Union fleet in Albemarle Sound and Roanoke Island, and also intending to blow up a powder schooner lying close by; but our forces hearing of the plan, frustrated them; they, however, succeeded in destroying the Croatan Lighthouse, situated eight miles north of Roanoke Island, in Croatan Sound, and taking the Light-keeper and his wife prisoners.

FROM EUROPE.

The Caledonia, from Liverpool Oct. 4, via Greenock Oct. 5, passed Cape Race on Thursday with five days later news. The political advices are unimportant. The great prize fight between Mace and Coburn has been indefinitely postponed. Cotton had declined ⅛d. The Hecla also arrived at Halifax on the 13th, but the storm has prevented the reception of her news.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Gold Room was on the upward turn again yesterday, and several of the short sellers at previous rates, defaulted further engagements, which circumstance assisting the advance, the price went to 217; subsequently returning to 215 per cent. The Stock market continued firm and the Railway speculation buoyant. Government Stocks also firm.

The rise in Gold yesterday stimulated the demand for the principal kinds of produce, especially for Breadstuffs. Provisions, Hay, Hops, Petroleum and tallow, at generally much firmer prices. Foreign merchandise attracted more attention, privately and through the auction rooms, at advancing rates. The freight market was quiet.

The Jewish festival of Succoth, or Tabernacles, commences to-day, and will continue for eight days. All Israelites, during this period, take their meals in booths, to commemorate the dwelling in booths by the children of Israel, during their sojourn in the wilderness.

John B. Manning, of the firm of Manning & De Forest, brokers, of No. 19 Wall-street, was arrested, yesterday afternoon, by Capt. Jourdan, of the Sixth Precinct Police, charged with having some knowledge of, or complicity in a late robbery in Boston. On the 25th of August last, the firm of Brewster, Sweet & Co., bankers in Boston, were robbed, in open day, of $50,000 in United States Treasury notes and certificates of stock. The latter firm offered a reward of $4,000 for the recovery of the stolen property, and printed notices, specifying the dates, numbers and amounts of the lost notes and certificates, were sent at once to this city. The Police think that by the arrest of Manning they have obtained a clue to the thief. Four of the Treasury notes are known to have been passed in this city, and the prisoner is alleged to be the person that did it. The latter, however, claims to be innocent. He has been committed to the Tombs to await an examination, which will take place to-day.

Hon. O. H. Browning, of Illinois, formerly United States Senator, who has been stoutly claimed as for McClellan by the Copperhead papers, writes a letter in which he expresses personal respect for McClellan, but says he cannot give him his support, because he regards his political principles, as expressed in the platform, a disgraceful compromise with the enemy.

Chief Justice Taney, whose death we have already announced, had been in ill health for several years, but the immediate cause of his decease was chronic disease of the bowels. He did not, however, take to his bed until Monday week, and it was soon apparent that it was his last sickness. His family physician, Dr. Tyler, of Georgetown, with Dr. Hall, of Washington, have been in constant attendance on the deceased, and on Wednesday he was visited by Mr. Buckler, of Baltimore. He commenced to sink rapidly on Wednesday evening, and the members of his family, who had been previously summoned to Washington, were called to his bedside and took leave of him, and soon after he became insensible and died without a struggle. Judge Taney leaves five daughters, four of whom—Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Taney—were present at the time of his death, together with his son-in-law, J. Mason Campbell. It is probable that, after the funeral solemnities at Washington, the remains will be taken to Frederick, Md., for interment.

The Memphis (Tenn.) Bulletin of the 6th instant says: "It is reported that the object of ex-Gov. Sprague, who is now stopping at the Gayoso House, in visiting the Mississippi Valley, is to ascertain what can be done to open the Cotton trade without injury to National interests from supplies going to rebels."

The Calais (Me.) Advertiser says immense hauls of mackerel continue to be taken in Halifax Harbor and in the Basin above. One day last week over eight hundred barrels were taken by half a dozen persons. The fish are large and fat and almost cover the surface of the water.

The Republican and Union Convention of the Eighth District has nominated William E. Dodge, Esq., for Congress.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Address of the National Union Executive Committee to the People of the United States.

Astor House, New-York, Oct. 14, 1864.

Fellow Citizens: The elections of Tuesday last give splendid auguries of the result of the Presidential contest, now so near at hand. The great Central States of the Union have pronounced, in unmistakable tones, their condemnation of the principles, the purposes and the candidates of the Chicago Convention. Although the great issue was presented only indirectly for their action, they have branded as false the declaration of that assemblage that the war for the restoration of the Union has proved a "failure,"—and have stigmatized, as unpatriotic and cowardly, its demand, made in the midst of our most splendid triumphs, for a "cessation of hostilities," and a compromise with the men who are assailing, in armed rebellion, the nation's life.

In Pennsylvania, the old Keystone State, although there was no State ticket to arouse enthusiasm or stimulate exertion, the Union men have elected sixteen out of the twenty-four members of Congress, secured a large majority in both branches of the Legislature, and carried the State by a popular majority of not less than FIFTEEN THOUSAND.

In Ohio, without any special effort, the Union men have elected sixteen members of Congress out of nineteen; the Chicago candidate for the Vice-Presidency, Geo. H. Pendleton, has been overwhelmed in his own district;—all the prominent leaders of the Chicago movement who dared to present themselves for public judgment, have been condemned by decisive verdicts;—the Legislature has a large Union majority in both branches, and in the State at large the Union cause has a popular majority of not less than EIGHTY THOUSAND.

In Indiana, where the Copperheads made the most desperate and determined struggle, they have met the most signal defeat and overthrow. Their organization was perfect, their means abundant, and their efforts marked by the utmost vigor and determination. But they have been utterly routed by the most decisive majority which that State has given for many years. Although she had more than 40,000 soldiers in the field, from whom the Opposition party had withheld the right to vote, the Union men in that gallant State have gained three members of Congress, sent Schuyler Colfax back, in spite of the most desperate efforts to defeat him, to the seat he has so long adorned, chosen a Union Legislature, reëlected the gallant and patriotic Gov. Morton by FIFTEEN THOUSAND majority, and overwhelmed, with the lasting stigma of popular condemnation, the conspirators who had dared in aid of the rebellion to organise upon her soil a movement of armed resistance to the constitutional authority of the United States.

Fellow-Citizens! These results may well fill your hearts with confidence that in November the popular voice will demand that the rebellion be crushed by "force of arms," and that there be no Cessation of Hostilities until the integrity of the Union is restored and the supremacy of the Constitution reëstablished over every foot of the national domain. They leave no room for doubt as to the settled sentiment and purpose of the American people. The Union victories of September in Vermont and Maine indicated unmistakably the feelings of New-England. New-York has never failed to sympathize in political sentiment with Pennsylvania. Illinois always votes with Indiana, and the overwhelming majority in Ohio renders certain the verdict of the mighty West.

But take care that the very splendor of these victories does not betray you into fatal inactivity! Let them stimulate you to fresh exertions—not lull you into a false security! These contests are only the preliminary skirmishes of the grand engagement. The battle is but just begun; it will not be closed until the last vote drops into the ballot-box at sunset on the 8th of November next. Our opponents now will not abandon the contest; they will only fight with the greater desperation on account of the check they have sustained.

Besides this, it is not enough that we secure a victory. The Union cause deserves and demands at our hands an overwhelming triumph. We owe it to the flag we serve; to the memory of the noble hearts who have died in its defence; to the heroes who are even now rallying, in blood and fire, to the rescue of its starry folds, to put such a brand of popular condemnation upon its foes as shall leave them neither heart nor strength to assail it from this time forward forever!

Signs, moreover, are not wanting that the allies of the Rebellion, represented at Chicago, are prepared, if the contest be close, to resist the verdict of the people now, as it was resisted four years ago, by armed rebellion. Threats of such a purpose have been freely uttered. Secret organizations, looking to such a movement, have been perfected. Arms and ammunition have been secretly accumulated in the Western States. And the Chicago Convention itself refused to adjourn sine die after its legitimate business had been transacted but, on motion of Wickliffe, of Kentucky, an open ally of the Rebellion, and in imitation of the Jacobin clubs of Revolutionary France, resolved itself into a permanent body for the avowed purpose of taking such steps as emergencies might require between now and the 4th of March next. To what do these preparations look if not to a repetition on Northern soil of the secession movement in the Southern States; to fresh attempts to arouse rebellion against the will of the people, if that will should be pronounced against them?

For these reasons, Fellow-Citizens, and for every reason connected with the welfare, the honor, the salvation of our beloved country, it is of the utmost importance that you should give in November an overwhelming majority for the Union cause. With proper exertion you can carry every Loyal State in the Union for the Union Candidates. Let that be the aim of your efforts! Be content with nothing less. Remember that the contest is not one for party ascendancy. You are not fighting for a party victory. The stake for which you are contending is nothing less than the honor and the life of your country. Remember that failure now is failure forever; that a triumph of the Cessation and Surrender policy of the Chicago Convention leads inevitably to a recognition of the Rebel Confederacy, with Slavery as its corner-stone,—to the disruption of this glorious Union and the overthrow of Democratic and Republican principles all over the world. Give not such a triumph to the foes of Freedom abroad and the enemies of equal rights at home! Let not England and France thus glory in the destruction of this Imperial Republic. Let the world understand that the American people still cling to the principles of their fathers,—that they will still maintain against all hostility the integrity of their Union, the authority of their Constitution, and the honor and supremacy of their glorious Flag!

We call upon Union Committees, Loyal Leagues, and all other organizations formed for the purpose of vindicating and maintaining the Union cause, to redouble their efforts. Let them perfect their organization, instantly everywhere. Let them send to this Committee for such Documents as will enlighten the people in their respective localities upon the great issues involved in the canvass;—they will be furnished gratuitously, on the sole condition that they are faithfully used. Let speakers in every town and every district address the judgment and the patriotic sentiment of the people, and rally them to the support and defence of our principles and candidates. Let full and prompt provision be made, in advance, for bringing voters to the polls, for preventing frauds, and for securing in this sharp crisis of the country's fate the vote of every citizen who has an interest in the preservation of the nation's life.

Let special care be taken to secure, for every Soldier and for every Sailor, who is fighting in the field or on the sea in defence of the country and its flag, the exercise of his right to vote. If any man's right of suffrage is sacred it is his. See to it that he is not deprived of it by negligence or cheated in its exercise by fraud. Send agents to the army to secure it for him. Where the action of hostile Legislatures has refused him the right to vote in the field, procure for him a furlough, if military necessity will allow, that he may vote at home.

Fellow-Citizens! But one month more remains for effort. If that month be properly employed the vote of every loyal State can be secured for the representatives and candidates of the Union cause. There is not one among them all that, upon any just and fair canvass, will deliberately pronounce the war in which so many of our sons and brothers have laid down their lives, a "failure," or echo the demand of the Chicago Convention, for a cessation of hostilities just on the eve of victory, and for a disgraceful surrender to an exhausted and beaten foe.

On behalf of the National Union Executive Committee.

HENRY J. RAYMOND, Chairman.

N. D. Sperry, Secretary.

The Late Elections.

Tuesday last was an eventful day in the history of this continent. A battle was fought then whose results shall reach further than those of any engagement fought during this war. The simple farmer who, in the valleys of Pennsylvania and Ohio, or on the prairies of Indiana, deposited a vote that day, did his part in deciding a contest whose effects shall influence all future history. When we look down through the vista of coming time, and think what we so narrowly escaped and what we probably gained on that day, the mind is amazed at the immense results dependent on trivial human actions.

Through the farmer's Union vote, so quietly given on that Tuesday, we behold the principles of Constitutional government reinstated over this continent; the right of the majority to rule, asserted for all coming time; the power of a base aristocracy, supported on oppression, broken for ever, and liberty made a possession of all classes and races in this Union. We see happy communities, millions after millions, from one age to another, growing up in such happiness, prosperity and enjoyment of equal rights on the rich fields of this virgin continent, as the world has never before witnessed; we behold the chains of slavery broken wherever the Union banner floats, and every corner of this land opened to the oppressed of Europe and to the free and intelligent laboring population. We can see freedom scattering its blessings where now slavery curses the soil and the people, and peace reigning where now is havoc and war. All this we can picture to ourselves as the certain result through coming centuries, of that simple act of patriotism and duty, done by our farming population on Tuesday last.

Then, when we remember what we probably escaped on that eventful day; when we look down the future and imagine what would be the results of a Peace Democracy ruling at Washington and recognizing the Confederacy; when we fancy this proud Union broken into four or five jarring and hostile Confederations, all unity of administration and free intercourse on this broad continent barred up, the Border States become a "land of blood" for centuries, the chains riveted anew on the unhappy negroes, and fearful insurrections following, which should destroy both races and waste the soil to a desert, the growth of liberty, civilization, and even Christianity permanently checked on this Northern Hemisphere—our glorious Republic become a mockery and a by-word to all nations—we can see how tremendous a destiny may hang on the depositing of a single vote.

It is true that the success of the Peace Democracy in the State elections might not have defeated the Union candidates in the Presidential election; it is also true that McClellan and Pendleton, even if elected, might not be able to bring about the armistice and peace which their party claims. The good genius of the Republic might preserve it, even under a Copperhead President. Still, the chances are, that if these State elections had gone against us, the Union party would have been discouraged, the rebels elated, and, possibly, our Presidential candidate defeated. With Pendleton, Vallandigham and Seymour as the advisers of the new Administration, there cannot be a doubt that vaccillation of counsel, negotiation, then an armistice, and then peace, would have followed; and the only possible result of peace is the independence of the Confederacy, and the probable disintegration of our Union.

But, thank Providence! we have escaped all these dangers. Tuesday's silent battle of votes has decided the destiny of the Republic. Henceforth, "Union and Liberty" for all classes and races, are to reign over this continent forever.

The Soldiers and Gen. McClellan.

What a rebuke of Major-Gen. McClellan is contained in the soldiers' votes now sweeping in! If there be one soldierly fibre in his bosom, how it must tingle with shame. His friends have always claimed that he had a peculiar power of inspiring his troops with personal devotion. All his addresses to them show that he made this a special object. Grant that he succeeded. Admit to the fullest extent all that his home admirers claim about his personal popularity with the soldiers. It makes their present rejection of him all the more dishonoring.

Soldiers naturally have a pride in their service. They believe in military men. Their very esprit du corps puts them in sympathy with their leaders. And yet here is one who led them longer than any other, and who, it is claimed, had a peculiar hold upon their trust, repudiated almost unanimously in favor of a mere civilian—and that civilian too one whom the home supporters of McClellan have flouted at with every possible expression of contempt.

Surely it is a most extraordinary rebuff. How comes it? What has filled these hundreds of thousands of clear-headed American soldiers with all this distrust and aversion? Mainly, it is the consenting to be used for unsoldierly and unpatriotic purposes. The Major-General stands for office on a platform of concession to the rebels these patriot soldiers are fighting to subdue—and that, is why they scorn him. His position, to their eyes, is a false one. He has drawn away from what they deem the line of duty. He is, as they consider, unfaithful to the flag. If there be any other reason more creditable to him that can account for this discarding by the soldiers, we should like to see it named.

It is a sad, shameful spectacle. He who was once the selected champion of the flag now leagued with those who would lower it to the dust. He who prided himself in being at the head of our patriot armies, now hand in hand with their worst enemies—with the party leaders who have from the beginning done everything to hinder their reinforcement, who have decried their successes, have pronounced their war a failure, have given unceasing comfort and encouragement to their foes in the field, have used all conceivable means to render futile their heroism, have even denied that heroism and stigmatized them as "minions" and "hirelings." We don't wonder that the living soldiers are indignant at such a defection of him who once led them. It is enough to stir the bones of the dead.

Rich Men and Poor Men.

Nothing has done so much to consign the wealthier men in this country to the political isolation of which they complain, as their own want of public spirit. They shrink constantly from the occupation of posts which it is especially their duty to occupy, and which nobody else can occupy, and the result is, naturally enough, that they find themselves unceremoniously thrust aside when more desirable places are put up to competition. The Legislatures of our States and the Common Councils of our large cities ought, for instance, to protect the poor against the unscrupulous exactions of the great corporations. It is their duty under any circumstances, but it is peculiarly their duty, as they are generally composed of men who owe their places to profuse professions of democratic zeal, and of devotion to the rights of the working classes. But as everybody knows, the comfort of the people, and especially of the poor, are not really of the smallest concern to them. The Legislature of this State and the Common Council of this city have shown the strongest disposition, on the contrary, to allow the great corporations to do their worst against the public.

Now this encroachment of great commercial companies on public rights has grown into a nuisance which must be abated, and the rich men are the people to see to it. An appeal has been made, we see, to the Common Council, in the case of the last freak of the street railroad companies in raising their fares. It is a most monstrous attempt at extortion, of comparatively small consequence as far as the amount is concerned to the rich; but of great moment to the poor, whose places of labor are, as they generally are, at a distance from their homes. We have very little hope, however, that the Common Council will do anything in the matter. The companies have a way of making things pleasant with these gentlemen best known to themselves, and the poor have neither time nor money to press for legal protection.

We say, therefore, that this is peculiarly a case for the active interference of our wealthy men. They ought to come forward manfully and see that right is done, and help to break the growing power of these monster monopolies, before which, if not soon checked, all the ordinary safeguards of private rights seem likely to go down. This last stretch of power in which, after having got possession of the public streets, they proceed deliberately to interpret the law in their own favor, and intrust their servants with the duty of enforcing their own decisions, is a little too much for endurance. If the public does not choose to submit to it, it need not, and we sincerely hope the people of this City are not craven enough to do so.

Demoralization of the Rebel Armies.

Those who study carefully every sign showing the condition of the rebel Confederacy, that they may judge better of the time of its approaching downfall, will do well to read attentively the two extracts which we make prominent here:

From the Richmond Enquirer, Oct. 6.

"Do you ask for an explanation of these rapidly occurring disasters in a portion of the State where the Confederates, until the 19th, never suffered defeat? It is simple and easily given: We have two enemies to contend with in the valley, one of whom has never been beaten since Noah drank too much wine and lay in his tent. These enemies are the Federal army and John Barley Corn. Sheridan has been largely reinforced, and the valley is running with apple brandy. Here is the key to our reverses. Officers of high position—yes, of very high position—have, to use an honest English word, been drunk, too drunk to command themselves, much less an army, a division, a brigade or a regiment. And where officers in high command are in the habit of drinking to excess, we may be sure their pernicious example will be followed by those of lower grades. The cavalry forces that had been operating in the valley, and flitting hither and thither along the Potomac and Shenandoah, were already demoralized, and since their last visit to Maryland, they have been utterly worthless. They were in the habit of robbing friend and foe alike. They have been known to strip Virginian women of all they had—widows, whose sons were in our army—and then to burn their houses."

From the Savannah Republican, Oct. 1.

"Somehow we can hardly avoid the impression that the great difference between the Army of Virginia and that of Tennessee is in its discipline. It is notorious that our own army, while falling back from Dalton, was even more dreaded by the inhabitants than was the army of Sherman. The soldiers, and even the officers, took everything that came in their way, giving the excuse that if they did not the enemy would. Subsequently stragglers from our army almost sacked the stores in Atlanta. Now complaints loud and deep come up from that portion of Georgia in the neighborhood of our army, telling of outrages committed by straggling squads of cavalry, and of insults offered to the families of the best and most patriotic citizens. This straggling—not confined to cavalry—this pillage, from which, if report speaks truth, even officers are not free, besides its intrinsic wrong, is wholly subversive of discipline and destructive of all hopes of efficiency. If not checked by some master-spirit, it presents a gloomy prospect of disasters to come. License is fatal to discipline and to efficiency. Even the modified license of the Maryland campaign ruined the cavalry of the Army of the Valley of Virginia, and it has done nothing worthy of its reputation or its real force since its return to Virginia."

The greatest danger—before all other dangers—which can threaten the Confederacy, is the disorganization of its armies. Let but the two great armies of Hood and Lee become undisciplined, and give up to plunder and drink, or disaffected toward their officers, and the contest is over. Till this last Winter, Lee's army has been unsurpassed in any country, whether in discipline or the hardy physique of its soldiers. Their moderation in Pennsylvania, before the battle of Gettysburgh, was no tenderness to Northern farmers, but the result of discipline and obedience to officers—their leaders understanding that nothing disorganises an army like indiscriminate plundering, and that the most profitable military exaction on a conquered district is the most orderly one. All who saw Jackson's corps at that time, testify to its remarkable good order and thorough discipline. The fact that the rebel officers habitually shoot stragglers or runaways in their own ranks, shows the thoroughly arbitrary power of the rebel leaders over their men.

It is true, Lee's men have been ragged and dirty, and have sometimes had short rations; still, never before this Winter have their scant supplies produced any effect on their physique. All intelligent observers agree that the old rebel army of Virginia was a superb body of men, both in physical power and in drill and discipline.

During this last year, all that has changed. The veterans are, to a considerable extent, killed off; boys and defective men, and old men have often taken their places. The officers have by no means the same power which they once had over the rank and file. All experienced regular officers in our army who judge cautiously of such matters, unite in the assertion that Lee's army does not fight as it once did. The corps of Jackson sent on the raid last Summer, into Maryland, has become demoralized by plundering.

As is the experience in all armies, according to the confession we have quoted above, they are more terrible to friends than foes. They rob indiscriminately, and even commit enormities on their own party which we have hitherto found them committing on our friends. They drink liquor freely, and have degenerated from the veterans of the "Stonewall Division" into drunken and thievish guerrillas. Such soldiers must of course be beaten by cavalry, such as Sheridan leads, hardened into strict discipline by three years of battle.

The case is equally bad with Hood's army. The Savannah paper contrasts even Sherman's merciless but disciplined devastation, advantageously, with the hap-hazard plundering inflicted by their own soldiers on their own people.

Verily the iron of rebellion is entering the vitals of the South! Devastated and wasted by the overwhelming hosts of the North, and now still more stripped and robbed by their own armies—the plunder demoralizing the agents as much as it ruins the victims; reduced at last to throw into the contest that for which the war was made; deprived of freemen to fight their battles, they even call upon their slaves to shed their blood for the cause of American Slavery!

Their armies are fast wasting and degenerating into great hordes of thieves and banditti. The people will soon welcome the "Yankee invaders," rather than these native robbers. And when discipline is once weakened and prostrated in the Southern army before Richmond, Grant's veteran host will make a strike from which the rebel forces will never recover.

Thus, day by day, we see the signs of the inevitable end, slowly and surely approaching.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

Washington, Friday, Oct. 14.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE CHIEF JUSTICE.

The funeral of the late Chief Justice Taney will take place at Frederick, Md., to-morrow. A special train with the remains, the family and the friends of the deceased jurist will leave this city in the morning.

THE VACANT CHIEF JUSTICESHIP.

Among those prominently named for the succession to the Chief Justiceship are Ex-Secretary Chase, Secretary Stanton, Judge-Advocate Gen. Holt and Solicitor Whiting. It is hardly probable, however, that any selection has yet been made.

A PAYMASTER CAPTURED.

Paymaster Moore, with sixty thousand dollars in greenbacks, was, yesterday, captured by Mosby's guerrillas, en route from Harper's Ferry to Winchester.

MOVEMENTS OF GEN. BANKS.

Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. Banks, accompanied by Col. James Grant Wilson, left this evening for New-York. He will be heard from, before many days, for the Union, Lincoln and Johnson, in Faneuil Hall.

UNION PRISONERS IN THE SOUTH.

The friends of the thousands upon thousands of Union prisoners in the South, will soon be gratified by the announcement of the adoption of a policy, which will at least mitigate the sufferings of our captives.

ARREST OF QUARTERMASTERS' EMPLOYES.

Forty-seven Quartermasters' employes, who refused to go to Virginia for the purpose of assisting in clearing the Manassas Gap Railroad of timber, when ordered to do so, were arrested last night and committed to the central guard-house.

GOVERNMENT TRADE AGENT AT NASHVILLE.

Green Adams, late Sixth Auditor, to-day, received his instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury as Government agent at Nashville, Tennessee, to supervise the trade in cotton. His successor has not yet been named. Mr. Shallerts, the efficient chief clerk, is strongly urged for the vacancy, and will probably be appointed.

Amusements.

Academy of Music.—The repetition of "Lucrezia Borgia" last evening attracted another good house, and the performance was generally and specifically good. Signora Zucchi was in excellent voice, and acted finely. Mlle. Morensi as Massio Orsini looked the part charmingly, and sang with much spirit. We were much satisfied with Signor Lotti, and Signor Susini, too, was in steady and tremendous voice. The orchestra and chorus, under the able direction of Mr. Pardigam, were both capital.

There will be a grand matinée to-day, when "La Traviata" will be given. In the evening, at the Brooklyn Academy, "Lucrezia Borgia" will be repeated.

The Hippotheatron.—There will be a matinée to-day at 2:30 o'clock, to which the attention of ladies and heads of families is directed, in addition to the usual evening performance at 8 P. M. The Hippotheatronic matinées are identical in programme with those of the same evening—there being no curtailment and the same artists invariably appearing. The houses continue to be crowded.

Another Serious Accident on the Morris and Essex Railroad—Criminal Carelessness.

We have to chronicle another railroad accident, which occurred to the inward noon train on the Morris and Essex Railroad, near East Newark, caused by the nearly simultaneous breaking of the axle of the driving wheel attached to the locomotive "Hudson," and one of the rear wheels of the first passenger car, throwing a portion of the train, consisting of four cars filled with passengers, from the track, dragging them several rods violently over the sleepers, and badly damaging the engine. A man standing on the tender was thrown to the ground, striking on a pile of new sleepers, seriously bruising him about the head and back, and probably breaking his leg. He was picked up nearly insensible, placed upon a mattress in the baggage car, and conveyed to this City. He was an engineer on the New-York and Erie Railroad.

Upon a careful examination of the broken axle, it was discovered, to the indignation of the passengers, that it had been cracked nearly two-thirds through, and from its appearance, must have been in action daily as while in that terrible condition, for several months, as only the most reckless management and oversight would have allowed the evident fraction to pass unnoticed. It was the impression among the passengers that the officers and employees of the Company must have been aware of the perilous condition of the axle, but allowed it to be continued in daily use—thus criminally periling the lives of thousands of unsuspecting passengers who are unfortunately at the mercy of a selfish corporation—neglecting to replace the fractured axle from motives of the most mercenary character. The new Superintendent's career has been unhappily inaugurated with a continued succession of accidents, any one of which occurring at almost any other point on the line of the road would have resulted in a loss of life frightful to contemplate.

It is high time the people dependent upon this channel of communication with the metropolis, the majority of whom pass to and from daily, and may be at any moment caused instant loss of life or the breaking of limbs, took some decided stand respecting the reprehensible conduct of this soulless Corporation.

Ohio.

CLEVELAND, Friday, Oct. 14.

The latest returns show that the Democrats have elected LEBLOND in the Fifth District, and FINCH in the Twelfth. In the Tenth and Thirteenth Districts, the Democrats have a majority on the home vote; but the soldiers' vote will, probably, elect the Union ticket. All the other districts have elected Union candidates on the home vote.

Maryland Election.

BALTIMORE, Friday, Oct. 14.

The returns of the constitutional election come in very slow, and the result is doubtful. The friends of emancipation think it will be adopted by a small vote, unless the slaveholding counties give a larger majority against it than was anticipated.

Mrs. S. A. They never fail to restore grey hair to its original youthful color. They act directly upon the roots of the hair, giving them the natural nourishment required. No lady's toilet is complete without the Zylobalsamum or Hair Dressing. It cleanses the hair and imparts to it a most delightful fragrance, and is suited to both young and old.

AN INTERESTING HISTORY OF DR. SCHENCK'S OWN CASE, WHILE LABORING UNDER CONSUMPTION,

And how his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills Act on the system in Curing that Disease, and the Great Success attending it.

NEW-YORK, Wednesday, March 4, 1864.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmonary Consumption, and given up to die. I resided in Philadelphia, and Dr. Joseph Parrish, then of this City, ordered me to Moorestown, N. J., a distance of nine miles, which took me two days to get there. On my arrival I was put to bed, and there laid for many weeks. This was my native place, where all my family lived and had died of consumption. Dr. Thornton, who had attended my father in his last illness, was called, and gave me one week to fix up my affairs. He had seen all my family go that way, and thought I was to go too. Then I heard of the remedies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrating my whole system.

They soon ripened the matter on my lungs, and I would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning. As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain, night sweats—all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have been growing in flesh ever since. For many years I have enjoyed uninterrupted good health, keeping the liver and stomach healthy with the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, as I am of a bilious temperament. My weight is 220 pounds. On my recovery people would send for me, far and near, to see if their cases were like mine. For this purpose I pay professional visits in the large cities. The consumptives wish to see the one that makes these medicines and who was cured of consumption by them. To make new lungs is impossible; but cavities in the lungs and chronic ulceration of the bronchial tubes can be healed. Such cases are dying hourly under the ordinary treatment of physicians, and just such are cured by the proper use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

I am now a healthy man, with a large cavity in the middle lobe of the right lung, the lower tube very much hepatized, and complete adhesion of the pleura. The left lung is sound, and the upper lobe of the right lung is in a tolerably healthy condition. The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is they try to do too much; they give medicines to stop the cough, to stop chill, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies. After I make a careful examination of the patient with the Respirometer, and find lungs enough to cure, I direct the patient how to use the three remedies. I do not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord.

No one can be cured of consumption, liver complaint, dyspepsia catarrh, canker, ulcerated throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy. In New-England, this canker, chronic catarrh, ulcerated throat, elongation of the uvula, is more prevalent than in any other section of the country. This is frequently caused by a foul stomach. You may burn it out with caustic time and time again, and all they get is temporary relief. Correct the stomach and liver, and they will heal up themselves.

Good nutrition is the remedy. If you have any disease in any part of the body, it will remain there and decay more and more until you can get the stomach in the condition to digest food, and make new blood to take the place of diseased matter. This is the only way to heal cavities in the lungs and ulcerated bronchial tubes. Correct the stomach and liver, and nature will do the healing. Many persons have an idea that certain medicines are great purifiers of the blood. When blood is once diseased it cannot be purified; it is diseased the same as the diseased matter in the system; but get the apparatus in order, the liver and the stomach, and give it plenty of nourishing food, it will make new blood, which will take the place of that which is diseased.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is one of the best preparations of iron in use; it is a powerful tonic of itself, and when the Seaweed Tonic dissolves the mucus in the stomach, and is carried off by the aid of Mandrake Pills, the Pulmonic Syrup is made into blood. This is the only way to cure consumption. If I cannot get a good appetite and food does not digest, I cannot cure the patient. Never mind the cough; remove the cause and it will stop of itself. This is the most trouble I have with my patients at my rooms. They say, "Doctor, I feel stronger; I can eat; my night sweats are better, and I feel better every way; but my cough is so bad yet;" and they are astonished to hear me say that does not matter; remove the cause and the cough will stop of itself. Schenck's Seaweed creates a good appetite in about nine days, when there is no lung disease, unless the liver is so congested that the Mandrake Pills cannot unlock the ducts of the gall bladder in that short space of time, in order to allow the stale bile to pass off. Keep the liver and stomach healthy and there is less danger of consumption or any other disease. It is hard to take cold when these organs are healthy. Those that are bilious, low-spirited, dreary, feeling stupid, coated tongue, poor appetite, nervous, stomach full of wind, everything that is eaten lies heavy, loss of memory, try one bottle of Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and one box of Schenck's Mandrake Pills. It is only a cost of one dollar and twenty-five cents, with full directions.

This is sufficient, in many cases, to satisfy what the medicines are. Frequently one bottle makes a great change in the system. Any person that enjoys ordinary health, by using the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills occasionally, must get the digestive organs in such a healthy condition that they become fleshy. I can produce a number of my old consumptive patients now enjoying good health, weighing near 200 pounds. I will conclude by relating three cures I have made in New-York, and which are all different, and wish any one who feels any interest in the matter to visit them. First is Mrs. Farlow, residing then at No. 107 Houston-st. Her husband called upon me at my rooms, No. 32 Bond-st., and wished me to call and see her.

He said I could do no good; that he had all the best medical attendance, and all said she was too far gone with consumption to be cured; but she had heard of some great cures I had made, and he desired to gratify her wishes. I called, and found her lying confined to her bed in the last stage of bronchial consumption, and without doubt must have died soon. I examined her lungs, found both bronchial tubes very much affected, but no cavities had formed; her cough was very severe; the spit-box was half full of thick pus. Pulse 140, legs swollen very much; and worse than all, she had chronic diarrhœa. Her bowels had been moved eleven times that day. I told her that she had lungs enough to be cured, but that this diarrhœa had been of long standing, and her stomach was in such an ulcerated condition that I was afraid nothing could be done. She insisted I should try and do what I could for her, observing that she could not last long in the condition she was in, and I could not make her any worse. I gave her first a dose of my Mandrake Pills and Tonic and Syrup freely. That was on Tuesday, and by the next Sunday the diarrhœa was carried off, her appetite had returned, and she could sit up in bed and eat her dinner. She is now well, and gave me a long certificate, certified to by Rev. Dr. Dowling.

Mrs. Bartholomew, No. 83 West 45th-st., came to my rooms with a tumor on her liver. She was low-spirited, skin sallow, tongue coated, bowels costive, no appetite and fast sinking into the grave. The said tumor had been running over fourteen years. I gave her Syrup, Tonic and Pills, and told her to take them just as the directions were printed. She came back to my rooms, No. 32 Bond-st., in two weeks, somewhat better; her tongue had begun to clean a little around the edges, her skin whiter and her eyes brighter, and the tumor discharging very offensive matter much faster than it had ever done before. She kept gradually improving, and in about two months she came to my rooms very much frightened, saying that the tumor had nearly stopped running, and was healing up, and that every doctor had told her that if it ever healed it would cause her death. I told her that the disease had all left her system, and nature would heal the ulcer up. They are now healed and have been for about a year, and she is as hearty and robust a woman as you will find in a day's walk. She is glad for any one to call on her, and takes great pains to visit any one that she hears has anything like her case, and tries to get them to come and see me. The next case is Miss Schofield, from Stamford, Conn. Mrs. Bartholomew got her down to see me, and she has been ever since at her home. When she first came to my room she was much emaciated with a distressing cough, spitting large quantities of blood.

I examined her lungs with the respirometer, and in all my practice never found one with one lung so far gone and the other lung so sound. I could not give much encouragement. I thought she would die; but to my great astonishment the Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills all seemed to go right to work; the lung is all healed over, leaving a cavity as large as a goose egg, good appetite, fine spirits, and has gained some thirty-five pounds in weight. She has some cough yet, which I don't think will leave her before June. I should think it would be of great interest to some unprejudiced physician to visit these cases, particularly Miss Schofield, or any of them who have been cured by my medicines. They are numerous in New-York; but the above three all differ from each other; and if my medicines are doing what I represent they are, they should have the credit, and the afflicted ought to know where and how they may be cured.

EMILY CHESTER,
THE NEW AMERICAN NOVEL.
Price $1 75. One handsome volume.
TICKNOR & FIELDS, Publishers.

ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON
DR. VON EISENBERG'S
NEW INVENTION
FOR THE CURE
OF THE MOST COMPLICATED
DISEASES OF THE ORGANS OF SIGHT,
HEARING, AS WELL AS CHRONIC CATARRH,
DISEASED THROAT,
AND ANY DISEASE WHERE THE MUCOUS MEMBRANE IS DESTROYED OR IMPAIRED.

As the meaning of the name given by Dr. VON EISENBERG to his new Invention may not be easily comprehended, we (the New-York Evening Express) give the following explanation of its uses for the better understanding of the general sufferer:

is derived from the Greek word Aisoptikos, which, in its literal acceptation, signifies pertaining to the senses the theory or philosophy of tastes, the science of sensations, or that which explains the cause of mental pain or pleasure. Neuralgicon is a compound of the two Greek words, neuron, a nerve, and logas, a discourse with the suffrecon. The meaning conveyed by the term is, that it is an instrument or machine devised on philosophical principles with a thorough knowledge of the nervous system.

In describing the matter more at length to show its uses, that it might be better understood by the general sufferer, we give a simpler explanation. The nervous system is the source of many diseases.

All physicians admit this, and all profess at least to be able to apply a remedy. The Allopathic, Homœopathic and Hydropathic, by prescribing opiates, anodynes, &c., may, and do, alleviate the pain arising from impaired or diseased nerves, but this does not restore the nerve. It is only temporary relief—a relief, too, to some one nerve at the expense of the entire system. The Æsthetico-Neuralgicon of Dr. VON EISENBERG not merely allays the irritation, but restores the nerve to its normal condition. The Doctor's theory is, that each nerve has a specific office, and has its own peculiar susceptibility. Thus, for example, the nerve of vision is insensible to touch, and, on the other hand, the nerve of touch is insensible to light, and so on through the whole system. The great excellence of this æsthetical instrument is, that it can be applied not on guess-work principles, which are no principles at all, but that it can be applied with accuracy and certainty to any nerorve nerves that are weakened or impaired, to the different nerves of motion, or sensation, to the eye, the ear, or the touch, as in paralysis.

To those, therefore, who are in any way afflicted with loss of sight or hearing, with catarrh, bronchitis, chest or lung diseases, we earnestly suggest a visit to the consulting apartments of Dr. VON EISENBERG. There he will be speedily made to know the possibility of a cure in even complicated cases, and thus be encouraged to proceed until he is discharged thoroughly renovated and cured.

The reader, on perusing what we have here presented him, touching the beauty, complexity, costliness, [illegible] ing the various uses to which the Æsthetico-Neuralgicon can be applied, may be induced to believe that in the warmth of our commendations we have exceeded the sober truth as to its utility; but we know we have not exceeded the limits of common sense in our description. We care not how prejudiced any one may be against it, he cannot, when it is thoroughly explained to him—and that the inventor is prepared to do at any time to those who call upon him—but be convinced it is all that is claimed for it, namely, the most perfect mechanical contrivance for the exhibition of spiritualized and etherealized medical preparations now in existence. He will even confess, if he be justly minded, that in many respects it is destined to bring about an entire revolution in certain departments of science, and that it is what its inventor, with reason, holds an apparatus that will do more to mitigate human suffering than anything that, in all the past to this time, has been afforded to the world.—New-York Evening Express, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

Catarrh Cured.

LINCOLN HOSPITAL, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 1.

I have been for several years past afflicted with chronic dry catarrh, which a year ago became so bad that my hearing threatened to leave me altogether. My throat became greatly affected. There was a constant roaring in my head, which, with the other symptoms, was always greatly aggravated by the slightest "cold." Dr. Von Eisenberg commenced treating me a year ago, and has continued to treat me at long intervals since. I am happy to state that the treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg has produced a constant improvement, so that my hearing is almost perfectly restored. My nostrils are free from inflammation, and my general health is so much improved that I look for its permanent restoration, and that speedily, as a fixed fact. I do cheerfully recommend all persons suffering from catarrhal affections to apply to Dr. Von Eisenberg for treatment, feeling assured that with proper opportunity he will effect a cure.

JAMES T. FERRIE, Captain U. S. A.

I was completely deaf for several years, and hearing of Dr. Von Eisenberg's great reputation in restoring the hearing, I called on him, and in one operation, to my great astonishment and excessive pleasure, I now hear perfectly well. I came into the Doctor perfectly deaf, and hear as I never expected to do. This skill is unrivaled.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 5, 1864.

SIGHT RESTORED.

T. Lawrence Grenner, of No. 188 East 36th-st., New-York City:—Have been suffering from blindness of the left eye for a considerable period. The eye was continually in a state of great inflammation, which not only caused me intense suffering, but materially affected my general health. Hearing of Dr. VON EISENBERG'S great reputation, and as every one said my case was hopeless, I called on the Doctor, who, after having examined me undertook my case, and within a fortnight I found myself almost completely cured. It is now a month since I placed myself under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care. I am happy to be able to state that the inflammation is entirely gone; that I see perfectly well with both eyes; added to which I at present am in good health—a blessing I have not enjoyed since I was blind.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.
The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes payable three years from Aug. 15, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold-bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in United States notes considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in Government securities or in notes or bonds payable in Government paper.

CONVERTIBLE INTO A SIX PER CENT. 5-20 GOLD BOND.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. Stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE

It embraces interests in more than twenty productive wells, and in twelve others now rapidly approaching completion; while the further development of its large unimproved area will at an early day greatly increase its product.
We offer it as a permanent dividend-paying investment.
A limited amount of this stock can be obtained solely of the undersigned at $50 per share, being ONE-HALF of its par value.
The declared dividend for the month is one per cent. on its entire captal, to which purchasers within the month will be entitled.

The dividend thus to be paid, was made from the earnings of the third quarter of the year. The earnings and operating expenses as ascertained, and estimated for the first three-quarters to the 30th inst., are as follows:

Earnings for January, February, March, April, May, June, July and August, and estimated for September	$4,849,743 83

Nine months' interest on Chicago Depot bonds	5,213 00
Dividend on Stock for 1st and 2d quarter, paid	338,065 00
The Dividends now to pay are	197,355 00
Total	$1,293 908 00

Leaving a surplus subject to the further order of the Board of $630,366 99 after paying expenses, interest, sinking fund and dividends for the nine months of the year.
The nett income for the nine months, after paying all charges upon the revenue excepting dividends, is sixteen per cent. (16 per cent.) on the present augmented capital, or about seventeen per cent. (17 per cent.) on the average capital invested during the same period, which is equal to twenty-two and two-thirds per cent. (22⅔ per cent.) for the year.
The amount expended for construction to the 30th inst., will be about $1,900,000, of which the greater portion will be paid by the money realized from the sale of stock ordered in April last, and which has all been sold.

LOVE IN LIVERY,
induces the management to invite the
SPECIAL ATTENTION of the public to Mr. CLARKE'S
EXQUISITELY COMIC PERSONATION
PAUL PATENT.
So unbounded was the merriment awakened that again and again the progress of the comedy was interrupted by
CONTINUOUS PEALS OF LAUGHTER AND DELIGHT.
The contagion even extended to the stage, the artists being unable to refrain from joining in the GENERAL HILARITY.
It will be preceded by, for the thirteenth time, that most amusing of Shakespeare's creations,
THE COMEDY OF ERRORS,
in which Mr. CLARKE appears as DROMIO of SYRACUSE. The opening nights of next week must be THE LAST NIGHTS
of this great combination bill. The public should, therefore, not lose the few opportunities left of seeing Mr. Clarke in these great comic personations.
In preparation the SCHOOL OF REFORM.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS
MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

Messrs. CHICKERING & SONS are Sole Agents for the celebrated Alexandre Organs for the United States.

STEINWAY & SON
GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 71 and 73 East 14th-st., between Union-square and Irving-place, New-York.

THE WAR IN MISSOURI.

The Whereabouts of Price—He makes a Speech at Booneville—The Last Offer of the Confederacy.

St. Louis, Friday, Oct. 14.

Price's headquarters are still reported at Booneville. Shelby and Gen. John B. Clark, son of a former Congressman of that district, are north of the Missouri River, pillaging and conscripting. Our garrisons have evacuated Fulton, Sturgeon, Huntsville, Glasgow, and Fayette, and are concentrating at Macon City. Clark's men occupied Glasgow and robbed Fulton. Gen. Price made a speech at Booneville, stating that he came to redeem the people; that it was the last effort in their behalf; if they would rally to his standard all would be well, and he would remain with them, if not the Confederacy would not again offer them an opportunity for redemption from their foes.

A dispatch from Maj. Williams, of the Tenth Kansas, says he has taken possession of Pilot Knob and the surrounding region. He found 215 wounded rebels there, including 26 commissioned officers, evidence conclusive that the rebels lost over 1,500 killed and wounded in their attack on Pilot Knob. Nearly $100,000 worth of goods, of different descriptions, were taken from stores at Pilot Knob and vicinity.

Gen. Rosecrans has issued a stringent order for the government of the coming election.

Friday, Oct. 14—P. M.

The bids for the new United States Loan of $40,000,000 were opened at the Treasury Office in Washington at noon to-day, and the telegraph advises at 2 o'clock that from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 in excess of the amount advertised has been bid for. Later particulars will no doubt appear under the Washington dispatches in the morning. The great combination bids from this City, represented by Mr. John Thompson, of the First National, and Mr. Morris Ketchum, of the Fourth National Banks, were at a fraction over the par value of the 5-20 years 6 ℔ cent. Stock, the two bids closely approximating each other. The combination bid represented by Mr. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and including the list of Messrs. Livermore, Clews & Co., of this City, is reported to be at a fraction over 101 ℔ cent. We have been favored with the following particulars of the offers through Mr. Thompson and Mr. Ketchum.

In the Gold Room to-day the Bull speculators for the rise were more decidedly in the ascendant than for several weeks past. The upward turn was stimulated by the failure of two or three parties who had heavily oversold the market to make good their engagements. Incidents of this nature, whether on the Bull or Bear side of the speculation, generally throw the regular dealers of the room into a false position for a day or two; the effect being the same as the occasional defaults of the Stock Exchange, by which thirds parties are made long or short of particular stocks, without their consent and against their actual views of the market. Without reference, however, to the failures referred to, the speculators for a rise in gold have manifested since yesterday morning a persistent determination to make a substantial turn in the market, but whether from political or military calculations upon the events of the next four weeks, we are unable to say. The market, after our regular report of yesterday, fell back from 208 to 206½ ℔ cent. It reopened this morning at about 207 and went up to 217 ℔ cent., from which there was a subsequent reaction to 215 ℔ cent.

There is continued firmness at the Stock Exchange on the Railway and Miscellaneous Shares. The prices made a further rise on most descriptions to-day, and Erie Stock, as the standard of the Railway list, is closely approaching par again, after selling last week as cheap as 85½ ℔ cent. The Western Roads are also in good favor, at advancing rates, and New-York Central, Hudson River and Reading are all being speculated in for the rise, with much spirit.

The Government 5-20s, old issue, advanced to 108 ℔ cent., including the November coupon, and if the Foreign Exchange market would respond freely to the attempt making to put up Gold, this favorite Stock on the other side would go up to 110@112 ℔ cent. But the Currency rates for Bills on London do not keep pace with the Gold Room, although firmer for Saturday's steamer than the previous packet. The Gold rate is 109 ℔ cent.

The movements in Breadstuffs in Milwaukee during the week ending with Oct. 11, Messrs. Geo. I. The clearances of Flour since the opening of navigation are 328,066 bbls., against 421,802 bbls. same time last year. Receipts for week, 4,569 bbls., against 15,390 bbls. same time last year. The transactions early in the week were mostly on local account, but toward the close there has been a good demand for shipment. Money has been very close and has checked business somewhat. Blessings.
A prominent citizen went to the Colton Dental Association, No. 19 Cooper Institute, to have a tooth extracted, saying he had no faith in the gas to render him insensible to pain, but was willing to try it. After his tooth was out, and as he was waking, he burst into an immediate fit of laughter. He wrote his name to the "certificate," and added: "If it's worth two dollars, it is fifty." Such expressions of surprise, astonishment and delight are of hourly occurrence at these rooms. A distinguished dentist, after having a tooth extracted, wrote: "I thank the Lord for this discovery—I was perfectly unconscious." Another dentist wrote: "This beats my Chloroform," and now brings his patients to this Association for teeth extraction. An incredulous lady, after her teeth were drawn, wrote: "I am converted." Another: "I have no more dread of tooth drawing." Another: "God bless Dr. Colton." Office, No. 19 Cooper Institute.

THE
NEW AND IMPORTANT DISCOVERY FOR THE CURE OF DEAFNESS, DISCHARGES FROM THE EAR
AND
PARTIAL DEAFNESS,
EXCLUSIVELY AND SUCCESSFULLY TREATED
BY
DR. HARTLEY,
NO. 497 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK.
Deafness, Noise in the Head, and all disagreeable Discharges from the Ear, speedily and permanently removed, without causing the least pain or inconvenience. A cure in all cases guaranteed where malformation does not exist.
Thirteen years close and undivided attention to this branch of special practice has enabled him to reduce his treatment to such a degree of success as to find the most confirmed and obstinate cases yield by a steady attention to the means prescribed.
Deaf persons are again cautioned against self-styled eye, ear, catarrh and throat doctors, whose only recommendation is a glaring advertisement, a compound of ignorance, pretension and falsehood, and whose only object and highest ambition is gain. Dr. HARTLEY attends all persons free of charge until cured. No fee for consultation. Office No. 497 Broadway.
N. B.—Reference in all parts of the city and country.
Ravenswood, Aug. 5, 1863.
Dr. Hartley—Dear Sir: I entered your office for mere "consultation" as to whether a total deafness in one ear, of twelve months' standing, and in the other of a month—both coming on suddenly, and impregnable to appliances of external blistering and internal washings and oilings—could, nevertheless, be cured. You examined them, and asked me to be seated for the solution.
The actual hearing followed the question of the possible in so short a space, and so kindly done withal, that I have just left your office a new man, filled with surprise, gratitude and awe. To me you explained the cause and process on natural principles. I cannot resist the temptation to spread your fame among the afflicted, that they may find the same joy of relief. I went to you deaf and disconsolate; I came away hearing perfectly.
I am, very respectfully and gratefully, your obedient servant, JAMES N. THOMPSON, Formerly Missionary of A. B. C. F. Missions to Syria and the Holy Land.
